COLUMBIAN WAS WARNED BEFORE SHE WAS SUNK

(By Associated Press.)
CORUNNA, Nov. 13.—Captain Frederick Curtis, of the American steamer Columbian, declared to a representative of the Associated Press that he was a prisoner aboard the submarine U-49 six days after destruction of his vessel. All 109 members of the crew of the Columbian saved have arrived at Corunna.

Curtis said the Columbian was warned before she was torpedoed and sunk. The crew left in the life boats while the captain was taken aboard the submarine.

ALLEN FISHER DIES NEAR HIS OLD HOME

Great old man he! He reached Humboldt Well, Nev., with the first locomotive in 1869. He liked the looks of things and camped there, later made it his permanent camp, built a hotel; he sometimes obtained money from his customers, but as often fed them for nothing, and for 45 years was a little providence to all that region—at once a providence and an inspiration, for he was sterling and strong, and beneath all his quaint ways was shrewd and genial and had a faculty of carrying hope to the depressed and despairing and of pointing out the trail that led up to courage and hope.

One of his hobbies was to gather stuffed birds and animals. This he pursued for years until the big saloon of his hotel was literally a curiosity shop. There was enough in it to make a complete natural history of Nevada, and many a traveler on the railroad stopped off at Wells for a day to study it. He knew everybody, and the wise and foolish alike went to him for counsel and advice. All were received alike. He would stoop to lift a mendicant from the dust; he would have looked the czar of all the Russians full in the face and if he thought he was in the wrong would have told him so.

GOLDFIELD NEXT TO COME ON GRIDIRON

Next Saturday, November 18, the Goldfield football team will come to Tonopah for the return game with the Tonopah team. The Goldfield team has been doing some hard practicing since Tonopah defeated their team last month. They had several of their men over to see the game last Saturday between Reno and Tonopah and after seeing the game felt that they have learned some of Tonopah's style of playing and can put up a game that may prove to be a surprise. It is to be hoped that the weather man will give weather that will allow a good large crowd to witness the game, as many were disappointed in not being able to see the game with Reno last Saturday.

WALTER HOLLIS, MINER OF PACKARD, IS DEAD

Walter E. Hollis, a very familiar figure in Rochester, was found dead near his home last Thursday. Mr. Hollis had served on the election board and departed from the home of Superintendent J. W. Wilkey at 10:30 Tuesday night. It is supposed that he went directly to his cabin, as his body was discovered lying prostrate in a pool of blood.

BIG TURKEY SHOOT

There will be 500 of the biggest and fattest turkeys brought to Tonopah that were ever seen in this city, and they are being fed on the choicest menus just to get them toothsome and dainty. A. Shelly, who conducted the big Thanksgiving shoot a year ago, is bringing them here. If Russ Williams knocks over more than 25 in one day he will be barred from further participation in the shoot. There is no limit on Doc Morgan-Owen, provided he will consent to be blindfolded. Adv. N11f would be worked clear across the field to the opposite goal. This happened time and time again without a score. Near the end of the third quarter Captain Cunningham of the Reno team, by a sensational drop kick from the 35-yard line, won the three points secured by the Reno team. The fourth quarter was fought through to the end of the game without either team being able to score, and the game went to Reno by the score of 3 to 0.

RENO OUTWEIGHS TONOPAH

The game was characterized by clean, sportsmanlike playing on both sides, and the coaches of both teams are to be complimented on the style of play they demand from their respective teams.

In spite of the high wind and intense cold, a good crowd went out to see the game and the spectators felt well repaid for what they had to go through to witness the best high school football game ever played in Nevada. Last year the score was 53 to 0 when Tonopah played Reno. The Tonopah boys were determined this year to wipe out that score and actually succeeded in wiping out 50 points. With between four and five times as many boys from whom to select timber for a team, Reno has the same ratio of advantage when it comes to playing a game like football, consequently the work of the Tonopah team was really a surprise to the spectators. Never in the history of the Reno school have they been held to so low a score.

The Reno boys were accompanied by their coaches, Neeb and Alliger. The game was refereed by Mr. Kniffen. Mr. Alliger acted as umpire.

Coaches Cross and Merrill are not only satisfied with the result of the game, but very proud of the team they have given Tonopah this season. The football banquet given in honor of the Reno team on Saturday evening was perhaps the most successful and elaborate school function ever held in Tonopah. The domestic science classes of both last year and this year, under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Smith, the head of the department, were busy several days in preparing for the event. The boys and girls provided the materials for the banquet and they certainly provided bountifully. A decoration committee had made a bower of beauty out of the large sewing room in the manual arts high school, converting the room into a fine banquet hall. The colors of the two schools, red and white for Tonopah, and red and blue for Reno, were used in the decorations. The school monograms were nicely worked out in their own colors; the tables were arranged in the form of a large T for the two teams, with a football for the center piece. Fifteen or twenty girls acted as waitresses and servers and the course dinner served was substantial as well as dainty. In addition to the Reno and Tonopah football teams, the guests included the members of the board of education and their wives, the coaches of the two teams, and the entire high school faculty.

RUSSIA EXPECTS MORE FIRMNESS

(By Associated Press.)

PETROGRAD, Nov. 13.—The Russian newspapers comment briefly and reservedly on the re-election of President Wilson, confining themselves in general to the conclusion that a more decisive foreign policy is as much to be expected under Mr. Wilson as it would have been under Mr. Hughes.

The Novoe Vremya looks for a more determined attitude on the part of the American government towards submarine warfare "now that President Wilson is no longer pre-occupied with the political campaign." It adds: "American political history shows that the president usually commits himself to a more definite policy during his second administration. President Wilson will not now be bound by considerations of political prudence and will show greater freedom of action. The victorious candidate cannot help seeing that half the nation require from him, not so much pacifism, but dignity. He declared a year ago that he would not permit piracy, but, busy with the election, he has not had time to make good this pronouncement, and Germany has continued to sink ships at the very shores of America. He now must show that his declaration is not mere words."

CURIOUS COMBINATIONS IN HOUSE CAUSED BY REPUBLICAN MAJORITY

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Members of the house of representatives in the new 64th congress face one of the most uncertain organization situations in the history of the government.

With a few districts still in doubt, the Republicans appear to have a plurality of four or five members and a possible majority of two or three when it is figured that an independent elected in Massachusetts and a Progressive elected in Minnesota probably will vote with them for organization purposes. Independence of action has characterized a number of the re-elected members on the Republican side, however, and their attitude towards Democratic legislation in the last few years have given Democratic leaders cause for hope that some of them might carry their independence into the organization of the next house.

Democratic leaders regard it improbable that President Wilson will call an extra session of the new congress next spring. Then the organization fight would not come until the regular session, December, 1917.

As matters stand, the candidates of the Republicans for speaker will be James R. Mann, the present minority leader, and Speaker Clark, generally regarded as the Democratic choice to succeed himself.

Unless Champ Clark can be elected speaker they prefer that he abandon that race and become a candidate for minority leader, the post he held for many years before the Democratic ascendancy in 1912. Such a development might precipitate a lively contest within the Democratic ranks with Claude Kitchin, the present minority leader.

In the event of Republican organization of the house, the majority leadership under seniority rule would go to Joseph W. Fordney, of Michigan, who automatically would become chairman of the ways and means committee. Among the majority members of that important committee which would have charge of tariff revision would be Representative Ebenezer Hill, of Connecticut; Longworth, of Ohio; Gardner, of Massachusetts; Moore, of Pennsylvania; Green, of Iowa; and Fairchild, of New York.

Whatever happens, Republicans cannot control legislation in the next congress, because the new senate will be Democratic by a safe working majority of twelve. In this situation, little partisan legislation can be looked for during the first part of the new Wilson administration. Because of this administration leaders will exert every possible effort to complete the Democratic legislative program before March 4 next, when the 64th congress will end.
